Conference Theme:

POLICING, RULE OF LAW, ORGANIZED CRIME, AND THE ENVIRONMENT

Meet with prominent researchers, leaders, and professionals from around the world!
IPES conferences are the only global meetings on policing, with scholars and practitioners networking in an intellectually stimulating environment.

Call for Papers & Invitation to Conference

Sub Themes:

1. Policing, Criminal Networks, and Global Risks
2. Preventing and Investigating Organized Crimes
3. Policing the Landscapes of Crime in the Amazon Region
4. Accountability, Legitimacy, Transparency, and Anti-corruption in Policing
5. Policing, Technology, and Environmental Protection
6. Cybersecurity and Cooperation among Criminal Justice Agencies
7. International Police Cooperation in Curbing Transnational Crimes

Please send abstracts for papers and presentations to the Program Chair,
Dr. Vicente Riccio, at chairperson@ipes.info

All papers presented at the meeting will be considered for publication in a post-conference volume in IPES Book Series, Advances in Police Theory and Practice.

In addition, IPES is launching a peer-reviewed journal,
= The Journal of Best Practice and Research in Policing.

Conference papers may be submitted to the journal for publication consideration.
The meeting will be in Manaus, on the banks of the Negro River, the capital of the vast state of Amazonas.

This intense meeting will be interspersed with a rich cultural program, fun, and enjoyment, including a whole day in the jungle of the Amazon!

Accommodation, sightseeing, cultural entertainment, airport and local transportation, spousal program, and meals will be free to all registered/paid participants and paid guests.

You may register and pay at the website via credit/debit card, PayPal, bank transfer, or by sending a check.
